Feb 16th 2010

This week we welcomed Kimberly Blanchard, Executive Director of Coordinated Health Services

Augusta's Coordinated Health Service, the parent corporation for St. Vincent de Paul Health Clinic and the Good Samaritan Respite Center has one of the few respites for the homeless in the nation - 16-bed center is located next to the Catholic Social Services Thrift Store at 2108 Broad St.

Coordinated has received numerous accolades from the city and donors over the years -

Coordinated has continued to cultivate private donations and grant money from city, state and federal sources and is receiving donations. To donate, call the clinic at 828-3444.

For the respite center and St. Vincent health center, The foundation's mission is to help provide care for the homeless and the uninsured and to promote hospice care - Many of their patients can't afford the drugs they are prescribed, and by going to the centers, it keeps them from returning to the hospital emergency rooms for routine care. The patients also get ongoing care for their chronic conditions including physical therapy
